France Tells Germany Of Plans To Occupy The Ruhr At Dawn Tomorrow

(By The United Press)
France's military machine, that is to effect the peaceful occupation of the Ruhr tomorrow at daybreak, marked time along the Rhine today. Troop trains that had hurried through the night toward Essen, were slowed down and sidetracked to wait final word to advance. American troops, now on the Rhine, were ordered home and this action of the Washington administration, coming at a moment when France is about to act in punitive fashion against Germany, may have had an effect on the troop movement today.
Arrest of red agitators in Paris disclosed a Europe-wide plot to seize upon the Ruhr invasion as an excuse for communist revolution against capital.
Six prominent communists are in jail and the arrest of Deputy (Lashin among others) is sought.
Germany at Essen have steeled themselves for the encircling of the city by French troops tomorrow.
A Berlin report said that Lithuanians had taken advantage of the situation to cross the border and move on the city of Memel which they hoped to seize.
Headquarters of a coal distributing syndicate at Essen was moved hastily to Hamburg to prevent the seizure by the French.
Paris admits having heard of Secretary Hughes' plan of a mixed commission, but said France had not considered herself formally informed of it.

PARIS, January 10.—(By the Associated Press)—Germany was formally notified of the prospective seizure of the Ruhr district by a French foreign official who drove up to the German embassy at four o'clock this afternoon. The only spectators were a policeman who is always on guard there, and one newspaper man.

PARIS, January 10.—(By the Associated Press)—France's assumption of the Ruhr control is announced for tomorrow in a note delivered by the French government to Germany today.

PARIS, January 10.—(By the Associated Press)—The last formalities regarded as necessary before the French troops enter the Ruhr valley to apply penalties for default in deliveries in kind by Germany under the treaty of Versailles was set forth as follows: It was arranged that Premier Poincare would inform the German government through Dr. Wilhelm Meyer, the German ambassador in Paris, and through the French ambassador at Berlin of the measures he purposes taking, beginning tomorrow.

At the same time of the giving of these notifications it was arranged for orders to go forward to General DeGoutte to send to Essen a sufficient force to assure the protection of the allied engineers and agents who have been interested with applying the measures decided upon by the French government and which are disclosed fully, it is stated, in the notification to the German government.

These measures comprise, besides the collection of the German coal tax for allied account, the seizure of state forests, to be exploited for the benefit of the reparations fund and the collection of customs duties on exports in foreign money.

BRUSSELS, January 10.—(By the Associated Press)—The first Belgian troops to be put in motion for co-operation with the French in occupying the Ruhr, entrained here today in four trains for Aix La Chapelle. They totaled 1,800 men.

Tanks for the Ruhr have left directly from Ghent. The troops from Brussels comprised infantry, machine gunners, cavalry, aviators and transport service men. The men were selected from various regiments for their proficiency.

The commander-in-chief is General Borremans.

LONDON, January 10.—(By the Associated Press)—The London Daily News quotes Senator Borah as declaring that France's action in the Ruhr paralyzes best hopes of the American people.

Mayence folk appear apathetic toward French occupation of Essen and other Ruhr cities, agreeing that "whatever happens cannot be worse."

Great Britain seems prepared for almost any eventuality, but certain high officials believe that actual French entry into the Ruhr is unlikely before January 15.

Paris reports that Poincare has anticipated possible strike of Ruhr workers and has hired provisionally small army of men to replace German laborers.

COLOGNE, January 10.—(By the Associated Press)—The French Rhine flotilla stationed at Mayence, will move to Dueseldorf, Ruhrort and Duisberg tonight.

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—(By the A. P.)—No further advance by the French was reported from any point in the unoccupied area early today. The troops which arrived last evening at Muelheim, 15 miles northeast of Dueseldorf, and at Speldorf, nearby, have been withdrawn in the direction of Duisberg.

BERLIN, January 10.—(By the Associated Press)—The Lokal Anzeiger today says two regiments of Lithuanian troops "profiting by the international situation" are crossing the frontier with the object of occupying Memel, the East Prussian territory internationalized by the treaty of Versailles.

LONDON, January 10.—(By the Associated Press)—A Reuters despatch from Cologne this afternoon said: "The attitude of the Germans in the British area is venomously anti-French. A large irresponsible section of the population favors active resistance and the wildest rumors are abroad. Fears are expressed lest the British and American troops should be withdrawn."

De Valera May Be In This Country

BOSTON, January 10.—(By the Associated Press)—Expressing the belief that Eamon DeValera is already in this country, local members of the American Association for the recognition of the Irish republic, announced today that he would be invited to the meeting of the state organization on January 24.
Word from New York last week that a delegation of Republican sympathizers was coming here for a meeting with an unnamed leader from Ireland, aroused interest in the possibility of De Valera's appearance. The steamship Audania arrived yesterday and was watched with an eye to the possibility that he might be aboard, but he did not appear.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 10.—Establishment of an endowment fund to finance the decoration of graves of American soldiers who died overseas will be one of the most important subjects to come before the meeting of the national executive committee of the American Legion which has been called to meet here January 14 and 15.

Keller Open To Punishment Thru Failure To Answer Subpoenas--Committee

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The report of the house judiciary committee on its investigation of the impeachment charges brought against Attorney General Daugherty by Representative Keller, Republican, Minnesota, was submitted to the house by chairman Volstead. Whether it will be called up for action by the house has not yet been determined.
The "high spots" of the report are the resolutions adopted yesterday by committee dismissing the charges as unsupported by evidence, and the finding of the special subcommittee approved by the committee that the house had authority to punish Mr. Keller by imprisonment or otherwise for his refusal to obey a subpoena issued after he had withdrawn from the case.
The committee report said there was no "merit" to Mr. Keller's claim that he was not obliged to respond to the subpoena since it was served on him while a representative in congress and added:
"Your committee is of the opinion that Mr. Keller was legally required to obey said subpoena; that the house of representatives possesses the power to cause him to be arrested and confined in prison until he shall consent to testify; such confinement not to extend beyond the term of this congress, and power to otherwise deal with him so as to compel obedience to the summons."
There was no suggestion as to how the Minnesota Representative might be dealt with otherwise than by imprisonment, nor was there any recommendation that the house take any action against him.

It was a foregone conclusion that if any action were taken up on the floor there would be a bitter fight against adopting the committee view as an established rule of the house.
The entire report of the committee contained slightly less than a thousand words and most of it was devoted to a recital of the events in the impeachment proceedings.

Klan Member Sentenced To Hard Labor For Twelve Months For 'Trespassing'

LITTLETON, N. C., January 10.—(By the Associated Press)—A sentence of 12 months at hard labor was imposed on Mark Moore, at Harnett county resident, yesterday, on conviction of conspiracy and trespass after Ira M. Faircloth, a farmer neighbor, had testified Moore entered his house at night in a white robe and hood and warned him against utterances derogatory to the Ku Klux Klan. Faircloth told the court he stuck a pistol in Moore's stomach when he approached his bed and forced him to remove the robe and mask. He said he saw other masked figures in front of the house but could not identify them.

Faircloth testified he was awakened one night last week by the noise of some one forcing an entrance into his house. Seizing a pistol which he kept under his pillow, he said, he waited until a robed figure had slipped into his room and had begun to deliver the warning at his bedside before he forced the unmasking.
Moore's sentence calls for hard labor on the roads of Harnett county.

1000 American Troops Stationed At Coblenz Are Ordered Home By Harding

WASHINGTON, January 10.—Withdrawal of the American troops from the Rhine was ordered today by President Harding.

In announcing the decision the state department said that the President deemed the time expedient for the recall of the forces now at Coblenz.

The American forces remaining in that area number about 1,000 men and it was indicated that the withdrawal order would be carried out as soon as the American commander, Major General Allen, could make the necessary arrangements for winding up finally the affairs of the army of occupation.

A resolution favoring such a withdrawal was adopted Saturday by the senate, but it was not apparent today how far it had contributed to the president's decision or how far the administration had been influenced by the situation brought about by the French movement into the Ruhr valley.

It is understood that orders will go out during the day for army transports to proceed at once to German ports and that embarkation of the American-Rhine forces will start within a week.

The transport San Michel now at New York is in sailing condition, and probably will leave this afternoon to transport the troops back to this country, Secretary of War Weeks said as he left the White House. It will sail for Antwerp. Weeks said the troops would be back in this country in about two or three weeks. A small force possibly fifty officers and men will be left at Coblenz to dispose of the property which belongs to the American forces of occupation. This property which Weeks said is considerable, cannot be transported and will be sold there. The cost of maintaining the army of occupation on the Rhine since the armistice, is now in excess of $300,000,000. This is to be paid by Germany, but so far, only comparatively small amounts have been received. The force originally was about fifteen thousand men, but has been reduced from time to time at the insistence of congress.

The date of actual withdrawal of the forces will be left to the war department where it was said that American evacuation of the Coblenz zone would be conducted in an orderly fashion.

Officials of the state and war departments refused flatly to make any explanation of the decision to recall Major General Allen and his forces other than to repeat that it was considered expedient to complete at this time American withdrawal from Europe.

Secretary Weeks was called to the White House early today and the purpose of the government to withdraw the troops was disclosed before his return to the war department. It was learned that several orders had not as yet been sent to General Allen to begin the homeward movement, although he has knowledge of the plan for evacuation and is prepared to move on short notice.

A few small detachments will be left for a short time to close out final settlements involved in the withdrawal.

Secretary Hughes also attended the conference at the White House which preceded the disclosure that the troops were to be withdrawn practically at once.

The American forces on the Rhine which for some time have been confined to the city of Coblenz and immediate vicinity, comprise 107 officers and 1,000 men. It was stated in a Coblenz dispatch to the Associated Press January 7. The forces are made up of 41 officers and 500 men of the Eighth Infantry, and in addition, quartermasters, signal and hospital corps, and engineers and motor repair units.

WASHINGTON, January 10.—(By the United Press)—News of the recall of American troops from the Rhine was received with satisfaction in congress. The administration was applauded for its promptness in withdrawing the remaining American contingent before they had become involved in any way in the consequences of the French advance.

"Fine," said Senator Hiram Johnson, of California. "That was a wise move."

"I am glad to hear it," said Senator Borah. "We are out now and we will be a long, long time going back."

Senator Lodge, chairman of the foreign relations committee, received the news with evident satisfaction.

"It was of course expected," he said.

Charges Klan Forced Her To Leave State; Names McKoin Deportor

BASTROP, LA., January 10.—(By the Associated Press)—Addie May Hamilton, known as "daughter of the Klan" declares on the witness stand in the open hearing investigation today into the slaying of Watt Daniel and Thomas F. Richards, she was forced to leave her home near Mer Rouge, and was "deported from the state by the Ku Klux."
She named Dr. J. B. McKoin, former mayor of Mer Rouge, and "Pink" Kirkpatrick as two of the party of men who she testified came to her mother's home one night, took her away and put her aboard a train for Little Rock, Ark., the home of her sister.
The young woman gave her age as 17.
"How do you know the Klan sent you to Little Rock?" Geo. S. Gulon, who began questioning the young woman asked.
"Because Dr. McKoin and 'Pink' Kirkpatrick and about six others came to my mother's house about 10 o'clock at night and told me they were going to send me away."
"Do you know positively it was Dr. McKoin and Kirkpatrick?"
"Yes, sir, I recognized Dr. McKoin who was masked but he was the only one doing any talking. They came to the house and pulled their guns and told my mother that 'Addie May' will have to leave town tonight. My mother asked them what for. 'Because,' Dr. McKoin said, 'Addie has been leading an immoral life.'"
"My mother said 'why don't you send others away?' Dr. McKoin said, 'We are going to.' My mother got down on her knees and pleaded but they made me leave. They told us if anybody showed their heads out of the door they would blow 'em off. They made me leave without a hat. Dr. McKoin struck my mother when she made a final plea for me to be allowed to remain. My mother attempted to shove them out of the room. She begged them to let her get to the depot. They refused. They put me in an automobile and Dr. McKoin gave me $1 for my fare to Little Rock. He told me if I did not catch the train I would be tarred and feathered the next day."

"I was put on the back seat of the automobile and 'Pink' Kirkpatrick threw his legs across my lap."

"What did he do that for?"

"I don't know."

"When was this?"

"It was in January, 1922."

"When did you return to Mer Rouge?"

"Last May."

"When you were sent away were you told you could not return?"

"Yes, sir."

"Why did you return?"

CONGRESS TO GET PLAN OF DEBT PAYMENT

WASHINGTON, January 10.—(By the Associated Press)—Negotiations looking to the refunding of Great Britain's four billion dollar war debts to the United States were resumed today with the American debt commission apparently prepared to agree if necessary upon a tentative settlement based upon more liberal terms as to time and interest than those prescribed by congress. Should such a plan be worked out it would not become effective however, until formally approved by the house and senate.
Representative Burton, Republican, Ohio, a member of the American commission told the house yesterday that the British debt commission had not asked for any leeway beyond the twenty-five year maximum period for payment and the four and one-quarter per cent minimum interest rate fixed by congress, but gave notice that it was entirely probable that some proposition would come before congress regarding the settlement of the debt.

Exchange Club To Continue Charity Work

Destitution such as few would believe could exist in Portsmouth was described by chairman of ten committees appointed by the Exchange club to look after needy families at Christmas time, when they made their report at the meeting of the club last evening. They told of a family where the father and mother were blind, with several children to look after, living in a house in a most unsanitary condition; of a family where a little boy has lost the sight of one eye and is in need of help to give him a chance in life; of a family where death had visited Xmas time and of other families where squalor and need are in everyday evidence.

The bright spot of it all was the fact that each committee had done its best to bring real Christmas cheer to the family it had been assigned to look after. Provisions had been taken where needed, children given toys, fuel sent, etc. Every member of the club felt that the organization had done nothing since its start except this work during the holidays it had proved its value. The work is not to stop with the Christmas period, but all the aid possible is to be given the families during the year in the hope of landing them in a better position in life. The largest attendance since the organization was founded reported at the meeting which was full of enthusiasm, W. H. Harshe, president presided at the meeting.

Death Call Comes Suddenly To Leroy Johnson

"I'm not feeling very well," said Leroy Johnson, veteran and well known colored mail carrier Tuesday afternoon when he entered the disquieting room at the rectory where he had been a familiar figure for many years. He walked over and sat down on a chair. "I guess you had better call a doctor for me," John said, realizing that he was seriously ill. He was hurriedly taken to Dr. Walter Braunlin's office 1301 Ninth street and died there shortly after his arrival and before any medicine could be administered to him. His death was attributed to heart trouble. Johnson was one of the city's best known citizens and the news of his sudden death elicited many expressions of sorrow. He had been a most faithful carrier and was well liked all over his route. He had a cheerful disposition and a kind word for everybody. Johnson apparently was in his usual robust health until stricken yesterday afternoon. He arose as usual yesterday morning and ate a hearty breakfast and did not complain of not feeling well when he arrived at the postoffice. He was planning to be retired on a pension in the near future and enjoyed the fruits of his many years of faithful service as a letter carrier in a downtown district but fate decreed that he should pass to his final reward before his dream could be realized. Leroy Johnson, the son of Benjamin Johnson, was born at Lexington, Kentucky, in the days when slavery still existed. He told friends that according to his father he was born in the fall of '56 which would make him approximately 67 years of age. The Civil War came and shortly thereafter when the Johnsons had secured their freedom, Leroy, a very small boy, obtained work on an Ohio river steamboat with his father. He was a waiter and cabin boy for several years on various steamers plying on the Ohio and Mississippi. For a time he was engaged with his father under Captain Moore of the historic old "Bohanna". The family at this time was residing at Louisville, Kentucky, where Leroy remained until the death of his parents. Leroy was a very studious lad and although he lacked the opportunity of attending school, he managed to secure an education by reading after his work was done. He often told his friends in later years that he used to sit up until the early hours of the morning in his quest for knowledge. In 1874 he came to Nantux after having taught school in a number of small Kentucky towns and secured a position as instructor at the Oldtown Schoolhouse. Shortly after he married Miss Nannie Umber, a native of Clay county, Kentucky. The following children born to this union survive: Benjamin L. John D. Crawford, Sherman and Ira of this city and Howard of Detroit; Mrs. Marjorie Harrison and Mrs. Georgia Walton. Ora, another child, died in infancy. In July 1890, during the administration of Philo S. Clark as postmaster, Johnson was admitted to the postal service as a city mail carrier, a position which he held until the time of his sudden death. He had been in the service longer than any other man at the local office. He also was the only representative of his race serving the government at Portsmouth in this capacity. He was a faithful and untiring worker and everyone on his route knew and liked the amiable old man whose merry whistle and cheery greeting could be heard every day as he passed along the street with the mail. Postmaster Vallee Harold, yesterday afternoon upon learning of his death, said: "He was a good carrier. For many years he has stood among the first grade carriers of the local post office and he was very popular among his patrons." He was a faithful member of the Allen Chapel M. E. church and a Mason. For over fifteen years he has held the office of secretary of the Royal Arch Masons of the State.

VETO, VETOED

One of the best and most important acts of the city council was passed last night when it decided to resurface three of our principal streets, not only for the general good of the public but the advertisement and good impression good streets make with the tourists. Nothing disgusts a motorist quite so much as to run into a town after a hard day's drive and find poor streets. Now that that's taken care of let's turn our attention to the New Court House and make a new record for getting it built, the best we can get with a fair profit to every one, but demanding 100 cents for your dollar, just as you are getting when you buy good shoes here. Not the largest or fanciest store but real honest-to-goodness shoes for the whole family. Rich or poor, black or white, whether you drive up in a Rolls Royce or the old grey mare, you get the same consideration, nor do I add 20 per cent so as I can allow you a 10 per cent. discount.

"Within The Law" Manuscript Lost; Stock Co. Repeats "Up In Mabel's Room"

Hardships Of The Stock Actor
Little do those who sit out in front of the theatre realize just what the stock actor is forced to do under extreme circumstances in pleasing the public. The true love of their art and the hardships endured by the stock actor was fully demonstrated last night by the members of the Jack Ball Stock Company. The management has been announcing Bayard Veiller's great melodramatic success for the latter three days of this week and when the manuscript and parts failed to arrive in time for rehearsals, to present the play Thursday matinee, the mind of Manager Hawkins was put to work. With but today and tomorrow morning to rehearse and get a play ready for Thursday was a task which called for burning some midnight oil. The members after giving two performances Tuesday last night and rehearsed until 3 A. M. on "Up in Mabel's Room," which the players will repeat, for three days in place of "Within The Law." Each member was like the good soldier, and many a grunt of disapproval was heard from any side, when they were called for a midnight session.

Representative Adam Frick of this county has been honored by being appointed to four important committees in the House of Representatives. Political, Not Economic Scrap In Europe, Says Fess; No Time For U. S. To Interfere PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 10.—The attitude of France and the allies on reparations is a political rather than an economic dispute and until the allies in Europe reach an agreement as to the amount and condition of reparations payment "the United States is closed out from any material assistance," S. D. Fess, senator-elect from Ohio, today told students of the Carnegie Institute of Technology.

Mr. Fess said that "assistance from the United States will come only after Europe has put her house in order." The policies of Great Britain and France on reparations, "are irreconcilable," said Mr. Fess, and "the United States is not free to intrude in any attempt to unmake the dispute which would both be ineffectual for Europe and unsafe for us."

Mr. Fess said that governments must enter upon a policy of economy, adding that "Europe, with 1,300,000,000 more men in arms than in 1914 is an indefensible position from an industrial standpoint."

Disposition of the merchant marine question, a better way to deal with industrial disputes, and Americanization are after war problems pressing for solution, the speaker said.

TO TRY MAN UNDER CHARGES HE IS SANE

CLEVELAND, Jan. 10.—County Prosecutor Edward C. Stanton said he was prepared to go before the grand jury today and demand the indictment of Fred Goetting, alleged confessed slayer of Harry Keim, 46, hardware dealer, on a charge of first degree murder. Goetting was bound over to the grand jury without bail on this charge in Municipal court late yesterday.

Prosecutor Stanton also declared he would try Goetting as a sane man and would proceed with the case as speedily as possible. The prisoner three times has been committed to state institutions for the criminal insane and on each occasion was released as cured.

"The statement of officials at the hospitals for the insane made three separate times, that he is sane, will be used against him," Stanton said. Goetting was arraigned in Municipal court on a charge of murder after he took three detectives to Keim's store and re-enacted how he killed Keim with an axe in an argument over the payment of $20, which he said was due him for some whisky.

Keim's badly mangled body was found in his store early Sunday.

"Bootleggers Ply Devilish Trade Among Too Many Public Men In Washington", Says Congressman

WASHINGTON, January 10.—(By the Associated Press)—The spotlight of bootlegging rhymers and charges which has been hovering over Washington, had shifted back to the capital today with the declaration by Representative Upshaw, Democrat, Georgia, on the floor of the house that "bootleggers ply their devilish trade among too many public men in Washington."

With opportunity for reply by house members to Representative Upshaw's speech, in which he declared he would turn over to enforcement authorities all evidence placed in his hands of liquor drinking by government officials, including members of the senate and house, cut off by adjournment immediately after he concluded yesterday, this was the next development today. Because the house took not a "justice court" the Georgia representative said he would not make public names of senators and representatives who do not practice the prohibition which their votes profess.

CAPTAIN BLOOD

by Rafael Sabatini

© RAFAEL SABATINI
AGENT: MCA SERVICE, INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

PETER BLOOD is wrongly convicted of treason against the English king. He and

JEREMY PITT, among others, become the slaves of COLONEL BISHOP, a Barbados planter and uncle of Arabella, between whom and Peter Blood an interesting friendship springs up.

A Spanish ship conquers the island, but is captured through the strategy of Blood, who heads a boarding party of slaves.

DON DIEGO, commander of the vessel, who is given freedom of the ship, attempts to betray Captain Blood and his fellows but fails.

Blood sails to Tortuga, headquarters of buccanniers, where he joins with Levasseur, another adventurer.

The governor of Tortuga tries to break up an attachment between his daughter.

MADAMOISELLE D'OGERON, and Levasseur. He sends his daughter on a sea voyage, guarded by her brother.

Levasseur follows and kidnaps Mademoiselle and her brother.

Captain Blood engages in a duel with Levasseur to save Mademoiselle and her brother.

GO ON WITH STORY

It was soon over. The brute strength upon which Levasseur so confidently counted, could avail nothing against the Irishman's practiced skill. When, with both lungs transfixed, he lay prone on the white sand, coughing out his rascally life, Captain Blood looked calmly at Calusac across the body.

"I think that cancels the articles between us," he said.

"If you will come to our anchorage, you shall receive at once your share of the booty of the Santiago, that you may dispose of it as you please."

"They crossed the island, the two prisoners accompanying them, and later that day, the division made, they would have parted company but that Calusac, at the instance of the men who had elected him Levasseur's successor, offered Captain

Blood knew the services of that French contingent.

"If you will sail with me again," the Captain answered him, "you may do so on the condition that you make your peace with the Dutch, and restore the brig and her cargo."

The condition was accepted, and Captain Blood went off to find his guests, the children of the Governor of Tortuga.

M. d'Ogeron was not in a forgiving mood.

"Mademoiselle," said he, "aboard this ship you shall be treated with all honor. So soon as we are in case to put to sea again, we steer a course for Tortuga to take you home to your father."

CHAPTER XVI

The Trap

THAT affair of Mademoiselle d'Ogeron bore as its natural fruit an improvement in the already cordial relations between Captain Blood and the Governor of Tortuga.

So when it came to fitting out his fleet for an enterprise against Maracaybo, he did not want for either ships or men to follow him. He recruited five hundred adventurers in all, and he might have had as many thousands if he could have offered them accommodation. Similarly without difficulty he might have increased his fleet to twice its strength of ships but that he preferred to keep it what it was. The three vessels to which he confined it were the Arabella, the La Foudre, which Calusac now commanded with a contingent of some six score Frenchmen, and the Santiago, which had been refitted and rechristened the Elizabeth, Hagthorpe, in virtue of his service in the navy, was appointed by Blood to command her, and the appointment was confirmed by the men.

It was some months after the rescue of Mademoiselle d'Ogeron—in August of that year 1687—that this little fleet sailed into the great lake of Maracaybo and effected its withdrawal upon that opulent city of the Main.

The affair did not proceed exactly as was hoped, and Blood's force came to find itself in a precarious position.

A dispute was being conducted by Hagthorpe, Wolverstone, and Pitt on the one side, and Calusac, out of whose meanness it all arose, on the other.

"Is it that I have not warned you from the beginning that all was too easy?" Calusac demanded. "I see an abandoned fort at the entrance of the lake, and nobody there to fire a gun at us when we came in. Then I suspect the trap. What do we find? A city, abandoned like the fort. Captain Blood, he will go on, and we go on. We go to Gibraltar. True that at last, after long time, we catch the Deputy-Governor. True, we make him pay big ransom for Gibraltar; true between that ransom and the loot we return here with some two thousand pieces of eight. It is a piece of cheese in a mousetrap, and we are the little mice. The ears are those four Spanish ships of war that have come meantime. And they wait for us outside the bottle-neck of this lagoon."

He checked. At that moment, up sauntered Peter Blood. With him came a tough, long-legged French sen-wolf named Yberville, who, though still young, had already won fame as a privateer commander before the loss of his own ship had driven him to take service under Blood. The Captain advanced toward that disputing group, leading lightly upon his long ebony cane, his face shaded by a broad-plumed hat.

He spoke quietly, almost wearily. "You will be telling them that we have delayed, and that it is the delay that has brought about our danger. But whose is the fault of that delay?"

"Ah en! Non de Dieu! Was it my fault that . . ."

"Was it anyone's else's fault that you ran your ship La Foudre aground on the shoal in the middle of the lake? You would not be piloted. The result was that we lost three precious days in getting casual to bring off your men and your gear. After that, and because of it, we had to follow the Governor to his infernal island fortress, and a fortnight and best part of a hundred lives were lost in reducing it. That's how we came to have delayed until this Spanish fleet is fetched round from La Guayra by a guarda-costa."

He spoke with a restraint which I trust you will agree was admirable when I tell you that the Spanish fleet was commanded by his implacable enemy, Don Miguel de Espinosa y Valder, the Admiral of Spain.

"There's no good can come of talking of what's past and done," cried Calusac. "The question is: What are we to do now?"

"Sure, now, there's no question at all," said Captain Blood.

"Indeed, but there is," Calusac insisted. "Don Miguel, the Spanish Admiral, have offer us safe passage to sea if we will depart at once, do no damage to the town, release our prisoners, and surrender all that we took at Gibraltar."

Captain Blood smiled quietly.

"If you and your own French followers wish to avail yourselves of the Spaniard's terms, we shall not hinder you."

Maracaybo was at last abandoned. But they did not weigh anchor until some two hours after midnight. Then they drifted silently down toward the bar.

The order of their going was as follows: Ahead went their improvised fire-ship in charge of Wolverstone with a crew of six volunteers, each of whom was to have a hundred pieces of eight over and above his share of plunder as a special reward. Next came the Arabella. She was followed at a distance by the Elizabeth, commanded by Hagthorpe, with whom was the now shipless Calusac and the bulk of his French followers. The rear was brought up by the second sloop and some eight canoes, aboard of which the prisoners and slaves had been shipped and most of the captured merchandise.

The Spaniards did not sight Blood's fleet in the dim light until some time after Blood's fleet had sighted them.

Straight for the Admiral's great ship, the Encarnacion, did Wolverstone head the sloop; then, lashing down the helm, he kindled from a match that hung ready lighted beside him a great torch of thickly blatted straw that had been steeped in bitumen. As he swung it round it burst into flame, just as the slight vessel went crashing and bumping and scraping against the side of the flagship. His six men stood at their posts on the larboard side, stark naked, each armed with a grapple, four of them on the gunwale, two of them aloft. At the moment of impact these grapnels were slung to bind the Spaniard to them.

Aboard the rudely awakened galloon all was confused hurrying, scurrying, trumpeting, and shouting.

Wolverstone had seen his six fellows drop overboard after the grapnels were fixed, and then had sped himself, to the starboard gunwale. Thence he flung his flaming torch down the nearest gapping scuttle into the hold, and thereupon dived overboard in his turn, to be picked up presently by the longboat from the Arabella. But before that happened the sloop was a thing of fire, from which explosions were hurling blazing combustibles aboard the Encarnacion.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, N. H.

Hanford, California. Dear Dolly—We got into an argument out here and we want you to settle it for us. Dolly, we are former residents of Portsmouth and we got to arguing about what was on the corner of Ninth and Chillicothe streets. I said there was a grocery there and the other party said there was a soft drink parlor. Now Dolly, please tell us which is right. We like the west here, but we often think of our old home town.

WESTERN READER. There is a soft drink parlor, a drug store, a garage, and Tracy park on the corner of Ninth and Chillicothe streets; the grocery you speak of, is on the corner of Tenth and Chillicothe streets. Several years ago a grocery occupied the building which is now occupied by the soft drink parlor.

Dear Dolly—Where could I write to in Richmond, Virginia, to get the discharge papers of a soldier of the Civil War? DAILY READER. You might write to the Clerk of Courts, Richmond County, Richmond, Virginia. If you think that is the place to write. I should think you could get it by writing to the War Department, Washington, D. C. if it is necessary to have it.

Dear Dolly—We are two girls 10 years of age and in love as usual. We are going with two boys and one of us is about to get married, and that is going to spoil everything. I like the boy I am going with but sometimes he acts like he doesn't care anything about me. Dolly, give us both good advice and well never forget you. WORRIED GIRL. You failed to state what kind of advice you wanted. You both have beaux and seem to be getting along as well as the average lovers, so you might as well let things go on as they are, until you have a quarrel or split-up, and then maybe I can help you straighten things out.

Dear Dolly—There is a man in this town and he is so nice and kind to me, but he won't go with me. He asked me to write him a note and I wrote it and he got sore at me and now he won't even look at me any more. Dear Dolly, answer this and tell me what to do.

WORRIED GIRL. If he won't look at you, don't you look at him. You meet him, just look over his head, and give him to understand that he can't trifles with your affections. You can be independent, even if you can't be his best girl.

Dear Dolly—Can you tell me of anything I can get to clean the upholstery on a baby carriage. It is ivory colored and very badly soiled from handling by older children.

TIMES READER. Gasoline or any of the cleaning fluids on the market should clean it nicely and I imagine you could wash it successfully with ivory flakes or any good white soap and a brush. Then set it outside to dry. You wash the whole carriage, wood and all with warm soap suds. Don't get the upholstery too wet. Do it quickly with a brush and wipe it dry and don't let it soak in.

Dear Dolly—I see so many letters in your column from dissatisfied husbands and wives that I would like to say a few words about my married life. I am 38 years of age and my husband is 38. We have been married for 20 years and we have always gotten along fine. If I want to go out there is nothing said about it, and if my husband wants to go it is the same. We have seven sons, and they are all at home, and I think more of my husband and my boys than anything on earth. I see where so many have trouble and fuss and quarrel, and I would like to know what a man and woman want to live for, if they can't be satisfied with each other. Dolly, don't you think about it? Dolly, I know a man who goes down town with his wife and if she wants to buy anything, he will count out the exact change and give it to her, for fear she might spend an extra penny of his money. What do you think of a tightwad like that?

I. M. I think his wife would be justified in turning his pockets inside out and taking all the change in sight. However, I would have my share of the money if I had to use the rolling pin on him.

Dear Dolly—I am 24 years of age, and would like very much to be a nurse, but I haven't had any high school education. Would there be any hope for me? If so who could I see about it to get some particulars on the subject. What books would I have to be pretty good in? I am at present working in a shoe factory.

WOULD-BE NURSE. You will have to have a year of high school work or its equivalent, before you can enter a training school in Ohio, but this may not be necessary in every other state. You might write to the hospitals in Ashland and Huntington, and find out the requirements in these two states.

NORTH END VOTERS. The case of the man you inquired about is still pending, and will be settled some sweet day, maybe.

WANT-TO-KNOW-IN-DISPUTE. The property you inquired about belongs to the X. and Y. railway system.

Dear Dolly—This is the first time I have written you. I want to know the address of Baby Maria, Osborn and Gloria Swanson and Mary Pickford. I don't know Baby Maria's address. Gloria Swanson, Hollywood, Calif.; Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks Film Corporation, Melrose at Broun, Hollywood, California.

Dear Dolly—I am a girl of 16 years of age. I have light curly hair and blue eyes. Do you think I am pretty? Dolly, I went with a boy, and when he quit me he went away and talked about me. Dolly, what would you do about it?

CURLY. If you did nothing to be ashamed of while going with him you need not worry about what he says. However, you should profit by your experience and be more careful who you go with in the future. You are too young to be bothering your head with love affairs, anyway.

MARRIAGE A LA MODE

At a Bohemian wedding two slices of bread are given to the bride and bridegroom, the idea being that so long as the bread is kept the couple will not want.

There is also a superstition that the one whose bread first collects mould will be first to die.

The bride always gives to the bridegroom a shirt sewed with gold thread and colored silks, and a wedding ring.

Adventures Of The Twins

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

PLEASE give us some geography," said Nancy to Mike Mole.

"Certainly, ma'am," said Mike obligingly. "What about?"

"Oh, about the earth and moon and stars and things," answered she.

"Well, ma'am, I don't see well enough to know much about the moon and stars, but I do know about the earth, being as how I live in it."

"All right," said Nancy. "Now, everybody keep quiet," she commanded, turning to the rest of the pupils in Dreamland School. "Listen to what Mike Mole has to say. You may learn something."

Nobody wanted to learn anything but they all listened anyway—for a minute.

"The earth is soft in summer and hard in winter," said Mike importantly.

"We all know that," shouted everybody.

"Oh, hush, please!" said Nancy. "Go on, Mike."

"The earth is very light on top and dark underneath," went on Mike.

"We all know that, too," yelled the school.

"Nick, will you please keep order," said Nancy. "If they won't behave we'll have to have a lesson on manners."

"We'll keep still!" promised Chick Chipmunk. "We don't like manners as well as geography, even."

"Then proceed," said the teacher.

"The earth is full of things—earthworms and grubs and beetles and roots and stones and holes. Sometimes it is full of mountains and rivers, and sometimes it is full of diamonds and rubies, and sometimes it is full of potatoes and carrots. These things are a nuisance. All that count are earthworms, which I like very much."

Mike bowed and set down, smoothing his velvet coat. He liked Dreamland, but he wished spring would come so he could go back home. There were no worms in Dreamland!

"Very good, Mike," said Nancy. "I'll mark you a hundred!"

Mothers Advise Their Daughters to Rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to Keep Them in Health

A Mother's Advice Prevents Operation

Corona, N. Y.—"I had a terrible pain in my left side and had to go to bed every night. Doctors had told me I must be operated on, but I do not believe in the knife and would rather suffer than go through it. My mother also did not believe in it and she made me take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because it had helped her. It has also helped me for I am better and able to do all my work. I recommend your medicine and give you permission to use my letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. J. BUSCH JR., 115 Railroad Avenue, Corona, N. Y.

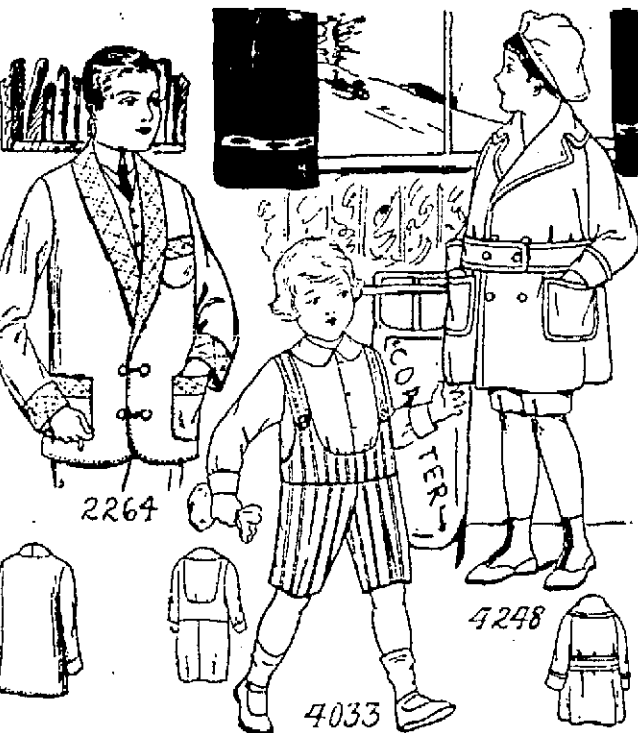

A Sickly Child

Mahoningtown, Pa.—"I would like to say a few words about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. About a year ago I thought it would be necessary for me to take my daughter out of school. She was losing weight, was nervous, and when she would come home from school she would drop into a chair and cry, and say, 'Mamma, I don't believe I can go to school another day!' I gave her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now she is a healthy, happy, hearty, strong girl and weighs 120 pounds. She has no difficulty in doing her 'gym' work, and she works at home every night and morning, too. I am a mother who can certainly praise your medicine, and if it will be of any benefit you may use this letter as a reference."—Mrs. GEORGE E. WHITACRE, 621 W. Madison Ave., Mahoningtown, Pa.

Every girl wants to be healthy and strong, and every mother wants her daughter to do well in school and to enjoy herself at all times. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for young girls just entering womanhood. Mothers may depend upon it. Remember it is prepared from roots and herbs, contains nothing that can injure, and tends to tone up and strengthen the organs concerned, so that they will work in a healthy and normal manner.

For nearly fifty years it has been used by women of all ages, and these women know its great value. Let it help your daughter and yourself.

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES

Jack made up his mind that the snowman was telling him the truth. Anyway, he couldn't see how a snowman could hurt him. Flip, however, didn't seem so sure of being safe and he ran around barking loudly. This attracted a lot of other snow people, who came running from all directions.

Jack immediately noticed that all of them were not snowmen. There were distinctly two different types of people. The snowmen, of course, looked just like those Jack had made many times himself. But the other people had long skinny legs and arms and funny small faces.

"Who are the little people?" Jack asked one of the snowmen. "Why, they are the Freezies," came the reply. "They are the ones who have charge of the cold weather. Come with us and we will take you to our little Snow Village, and then to Frosttown, where the Freezies live. (Continued.)"

GRAND JURY IGNORES VOTE BUYING

The Chillicothe News Advertiser says: The grand jury rose at two o'clock on Tuesday afternoon after a two days' session. Eleven indictments were returned, of which ten were made public.

Among the indictments was one against G. H. Rein, for passing a fraudulent check.

The Frankfort vote-buying case was ignored, as was also the case from Pike county in which two Democrats had been bound over for alleged buying of absent voters' ballots.

G. H. Rein formerly was located here and is well known in Portsmouth.

Masonic Five Split $35

The members of the Masonic Five, who rolled in the money at the Central States tournament held at Columbus recently, will split thirty-five dollars in five equal parts for their share of $700, while G. W. Patton, high man in the singles, 614, will receive his check calling for $9 as a souvenir.

Checks for the above amounts were received by Captain J. W. Sheridan Tuesday, and the money is being dispensed among the team members. The boys are not particularly hilarious over their "huge fortune," but are proud of their showing, for they finished in twenty-fourth place out of more than one hundred entries. The scores made at the tournament were unusually high, as is shown by the fact that no score less than 2784 was in the money. Also nothing less than 692 won in the singles. In national tournaments a score of 575 in the singles won, and even last year at Columbus 576 won for E. V. Leach in the singles.

As a result of the good showing made at Columbus, the Masonic Five of Akron, Ohio, has challenged the local team for a series of games, three at Akron and the same number in Portsmouth, total plus to count. The challenge has been accepted and details will be worked out within a short time. The Akron team shot at Columbus, but did not get out of the 2000 class. It is hoped by this series of games to arrange for a Masonic tournament to be held at Columbus some time next year.

Buys Valuable Chillicothe Property

CHILLICOTHE, Jan. 10.—John P. Phillips, Jr., has announced that he has purchased from the Goldsberry heirs, the two-story brick building at 27 South Main street, the first floor of which is occupied by the Bargain Shoe Store and the second floor by offices.

The building is 31 feet wide by 198 feet long. Mr. Phillips contemplates erecting a modern fire-proof office building of at least three stories on the site in 1924. The purchase price was a little over $15,000.

CHILLICOTHE LODGE COMPLIMENTED

CHILLICOTHE, Jan. 10.—Chillicothe Lodge of Elks was once more highly complimented last night when, after the completion of the initiation of five candidates, District Deputy Charles H. Norton of Zanesville, Ohio, told a large assemblage how well he was pleased. The local lodge has always borne a reputation for efficiency and the work on this occasion was on a par with other years.

In addition to the distinguished visitor the lodge entertained a good sized delegation from Circleville lodge including the present Exalted Ruler, Wallace Baughman and Judge Charles Dresbach. The last named in a happy address told how in 1880 No. 52 came to Circleville and installed No. 77 and what splendid cooperation has existed ever since.

Change At Breece Plant

Announcement was made at the office of the Breece Manufacturing Company in New Boston today that F. J. Ferguson of this city, who was recently promoted to take charge of the eastern office of the firm in New York had been recalled and placed in charge of the sales and traffic department of the company here. This is in the nature of a much deserved promotion for Mr. Ferguson, who was in charge of the production department at the big plant before he was selected to take over the eastern territory, formerly looked after by the late W. W. Breece.

Mr. Ferguson had his household furniture packed and was ready to move to the east when this second change was made which will mean that he will remain here with his family. The man who will take charge of the eastern office will be selected in a short time.

Well! Well! Even Brotherhood Could Not Decide A bout League Of Nations

All present entered into the discussion and at the close of the arguments it was decided that honors should about even.

Plans for a get-together meeting with the boys of the Sunday school and church were discussed and February 22 was the date selected, the gathering to be called a Father and Son meeting. This will be on Washington's birthday anniversary and a special entertainment for the boys will be arranged. Final plans will be made for the meeting at the regular session of the Brotherhood on the second Tuesday night in next month.

Wife Files Answer

For answer and cross petition to the divorce suit of Alfred M. Adams, Lydia B. Adams denies his charges and through Attorney F. W. Moulton accuses Adams of habitual drunkenness and cruelty, declaring that he has struck and otherwise abused her, accused her of infidelity and complains that he has given their three minor children moonshine liquor.

Besides, she claims that he has squandered $700 of the proceeds from the sale of their home in New Boston a few months ago, in drinking bouts and repairing his automobile damaged in collisions which resulted from him driving while under the influence of liquor. The wife admits that she has $200 in bank, but says she has no other means to support herself and children and asks that the temporary injunction (giving up the money) be dissolved. She further asks that she be given the divorce and alimony with custody of their children. Adams is a well known baker.

SOCIETY

The Women's Home Missionary Society of Trinity church held their regular meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ira Martin on Washington street. There were forty members present and following the devotionals which were conducted by Mrs. C. C. Coverston several instructive papers were read. Mrs. Edgar Mann read an article from the Year Book telling of the Missionary Work Being Done Among The Negro Race. Mrs. C. C. Coverston also gave an interesting missionary talk. Chocolate and wafers were served during the social hour which followed.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. John Fulton.

The Parent Teachers Association of the Garfield school held an interesting meeting at the school Tuesday afternoon with a large number of members present. Mrs. C. A. Howe had charge of the meeting and after a short business session an interesting program was rendered. Mrs. Albert Timme gave an enjoyable reading entitled "Day Of Little Things" after which Mrs. John C. Staker and Miss Lulu Jones' pupils of the first grade gave a pleasing song which was very much appreciated. The third grade pupils of Miss Blanche Heffner also rendered a delightful song. Mrs. Carl Pollard followed with a reading, "Dawn Of The New Year." Much merriment was caused when the various members told how they earned a "crazy dollar" for the association. After each one had read a little poem describing how they earned the dollar, Mrs. E. C. Laug was awarded a box of candy for submitting the cleverest little verse.

A social hour followed during which the ten women who composed the social committee served a dainty refreshment course.

It is hoped that all mothers of the pupils will join this association before the next regular meeting and take an interest in the school and encourage the work of the children. The boys and girls of today will be the men and women of tomorrow and it is the duty of every parent to see that their sons and daughters get the best training possible while they are in school, if they expect them to take their place in the world within the next few years.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest P. Kelley of Seventh street, will be sorry to learn that they are both confined to their home with a severe attack of the grip. Capt. Phillips Tells Kiwanians About Salvation Army Work

Captain Phillips, in charge of the Salvation Army Work in this city, was the speaker at the noon day luncheon of the Kiwanis Club Wednesday, and gave a vivid insight into the splendid work accomplished by the organization. One of his most pertinent remarks was: "We believe in the three S's—soup, soap and salvation."

Captain Phillips is a most entertaining speaker and during his three and one-half years in this city, he has never dodged a duty or turned a deaf ear to the plea of the needy. He stated that he was mighty proud of the Salvation Army home in this city, the funds for which were so liberally donated by the good hearted people of this community. He did not deal in figures, but stated that the home had sheltered hundreds of men who were in dire circumstances. "It is our belief," said Captain Phillips, "that there is good in all men and women, and working along this line we do our utmost to make men better husbands and fathers and women better wives and mothers." His talk, while brief, was eagerly listened to by the large crowd present, and Captain Phillips was given to understand the Kiwanian latch string was always out to him.

Owing to the illness of President William Altman, ex-President Ben P. Dillon had charge of the meeting with the singing in charge of that world-beating trio, William Schwartz, L. W. Bragdon and George Kah. So well did the trio perform that Captain Phillips asked the men to take charge of the singing at a celebration to be held at Salvation Army headquarters Thursday evening of this week, when Rev. Hugh J. Evans will deliver an address. The trio accepted and promise some great singing for the occasion.

"HIGH BROW" CAT BEATEN BY ALLEY PET

NEW YORK, January 10.—(By the Associated Press)—An alley cat from the East Side has crashed into the annual show of the fashionable Atlantic City Club at the Waldorf-Astoria and strutted with a blue ribbon. A year ago, a hungry cat ambled into the kitchen of Joseph Frasnou on the East Side, and won the hearts of the kids, Joseph Jr., and Angolotto. They fed him and loved him and when they found they could enter him in a show for $10, they named him "Smoozer Boy," dropped perfume in his bath, bought an orange bow to go around his neck, built a cradle cage and took him to the Waldorf.

Yesterday he was given the decision over two high-toned cats in the non-championship class.

Big Crowds Jam Baesman's Hall At First Session Of Times-Sun "Cooking School"

What a "peppera" can be converted into an "assortment" was fully demonstrated this afternoon at the opening session of the Times-Sun "Cooking School" held in Baesman's hall by Miss Margaret Weimer, instructor, when she took such common materials as cabbage, apples and meat and made them into a salad which anyone could see was a member of the royal family of salads.

Every chair and extra bench in the hall was occupied and a number of women were standing when the school began. Many unable to find a seat or a food place to stand left saying they would certainly come early the next two days. Miss Weimer postponed starting a short time, so as many as possible could get into the hall. Among those attending were all members of the "Automatic" science classes at the high school.

By a few deft touches of her skill, fingers, a half of a canned pear, with the addition of two cloves for eyes, a few pieces of almonds for teeth, became a cunning porcupine which would bring an amused smile to the face of the most morbid invader. Her demonstration with these common materials might have easily been entitled "Old Foes With New Faces."

Miss Weimer gained the attention and interest of her class of women and girls at the opening of the school this afternoon by her attractive personality and easy manner of preparing the foods in the model kitchen. Demonstrations in the preparing of pre-salads and three sandwiches occupied the attention of the class.

The program for the first lesson of the afternoon included: Tuna fish salad, Mexican salad, pear salad, apple salad and cabbage salad, egg, ham and cheese sandwiches.

That part of the lesson devoted to food making was perhaps the most interesting of the afternoon, although those present displayed a keen interest in the way that the three most common of the sandwich would be prepared to make them unusual and attractive, while at the same time easy to prepare.

Discussing the interesting subject of salads which form an important item in the menu of today, Miss Weimer said: "This is an easy one to prepare, and although it sounds shocking it is most delicious. Place alternate slices of orange and Bermuda onion and place on a dish and you have it." True it does not sound like a dish pleasing to the taste, but according to Miss Weimer those who have tried it have found it comes up to all advance claims made for it.

According to Miss Weimer, the aim of the Washburn-Crosby school is to demonstrate the practical instead of the more fancy dishes that can be used only on stated occasions. The schools are to show the new and easy methods of arranging food for the housewife in the habit of serving by her own home. It is not a difficult matter to have a wide variety of dishes when one knows how to take the same foods and prepare them in a way that makes them interesting and at the same time economical.

Miss Weimer, who is a domestic science expert, is a graduate of Columbia University. All eyes were upon her as she assembled the various materials used in each of the salads and sandwiches.

"Vitamins are playing a most important role in our foods today, and to those vitamins we give considerable attention," she said.

The selection of foods in relation to their food values and the art of making them attractive was among the most interesting parts of the lesson this afternoon.

Thursday afternoon the lesson will be cakes, and the entire afternoon will be devoted to the mixing and baking of cakes. Friday afternoon the subject will be fancy yeast breads and rolls. Each session begins at two o'clock. The attendance at these two sessions is expected to be much larger than that at the opening session for the women who attended were much enthused over the demonstration and are sure to tell their friends of the splendid opportunity offered them at the school.

In addition to the salads prepared this afternoon, Miss Weimer suggests the following recipes:

Mirrolon of Fish and Potatoes

Macinate one pint of cold cooked fish with three tablespoons of oil, 1-2 teaspoon salt, a dash of pepper and two tablespoons lemon juice. Mix thoroughly. Add salt and pepper to taste. Cook separately one pint of cold cooked potatoes, cooked in skins and cubed, with the same quantity of dressing and one teaspoon of onion juice. Let stand in a cool place one hour. Have six hard boiled eggs. Toss together fish, potatoes, eggs and three tablespoons capers. Dust with finely chopped parsley or herbs.

May be garnished with crown of eggs, in which case the eggs would be omitted from the salad.

Crab Meat Salad

Mix 2 cups of crab meat, 1-3 cup cooked asparagus tips, 1-4 cup chopped walnut meats, shredded lettuce. Add salt and paprika to taste. Toss all together in bowl and mix with a mayonnaise dressing. Mould and garnish with ring of celery and olives.

Birthday Salad

Place a thick round slice of canned pineapple on lettuce leaf on each plate for base of candle-stick. Half of a banana cut in two crosswise and placed in center of pineapple forms the candle; half of a cherry on top of banana forms flame and make the handle of slice of lemon or orange rind.

Hotted Bread

Cut fresh bread in as thin slices as possible, using a very sharp knife. Spread evenly with creamed butter. Remove crust. Roll each slice closely, set aside until firm. These may be also served toast if desired.

Los Angeles Fruit Salad

Cut marshmallows in thin strips, there should be 3-4 cup. Add 1-2 can sliced pineapple, drained and cut in small cubes, 2-3 cups malaga grapes, skinned, seeded and cut in halves, 1-2 cup English walnut meats, and a few grains of salt. Cover with the following cream salad dressing and garnish top of each salad with a strip of pimento and finely chopped parsley. (This salad may also be garnished by serving in Berkshire boxes, which are made from four long wafers held together in box shape by a ribbon. The box is filled with the salad and any desired color scheme may be carried out.)

Pulled Bread

Remove crust from a fresh loaf of bread. With two forks, divide the entire loaf in half lengthwise. Then subdivide into quarters, continuing this division until each part is very thin. Place in pan and put into oven to dry out and then brown.

Plans Boost Of Salaries

COLUMBUS, O., January 10.—(By the Associated Press)—Salaries of all state election officials and members of the governor's cabinet, would be boosted several thousand dollars by Representative Gus Kaech, Democrat, of Akron, by a bill which he introduced yesterday. (Continued From Page One)

COBLENZ, January 10.—(By the Associated Press)—The orders for the withdrawal of the American troops from the Rhine, the news of which became known through a dispatch from the Associated Press office at Paris, caused much excitement as it spread among the men of the American army here.

Many of the men were depressed by the decision as it meant the end of the pleasant army life here with incomes of something like three million marks annually and upward, for the men.

Sensation In Britain

LONDON, January 10.—(By the Associated Press)—News of President Harding's order for withdrawal of the American troops from the Rhine, furnished something of a sensation in diplomatic and official circles here. While officials were disinclined to comment to any extent in advance of the official notification from Washington, it was stated that the American move was unlikely to affect Great Britain's policy.

French Express Regret

PARIS, January 10.—(By the Associated Press)—French official circles expressed great regret this afternoon over the announcement that President Harding has ordered the withdrawal of the American forces in Germany, the news of which was given them by the Associated Press. The foreign office could furnish no expression of the government as neither the American government nor Ambassador Jusserand had yet communicated the news.

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—The arrival in Essen of Dr. Hans Luther, minister of food, is reported here today. It is said he intends to resign from the cabinet and that he will again take the office of burgomaster of Essen in order to help the city through its present crisis.

Stir Germans To Revolt

PARIS, Jan. 10.—(By the A. P.)—Raiders were urged by the authorities in Paris today in search of communist leaders who have recently been in the Ruhr Valley and are charged with having excited the population to revolt against the entry of the French troops.

The warrants charged the accused men with having attempted to violate the internal and external security of the state.

Communist circles expect the arrests to be followed by the demand for the suspension of anti-communist immunity of Deputy Marcel Cachin who also has been active in the Ruhr propaganda so as to admit his apprehension.

Essen and Ruhr District Quiet

ESSEN, January 10.—(By the Associated Press)—This city and the neighboring Ruhr district were quiet this morning although there was a strong under-current of feeling and a tensiety due to the uncertainty and lack of definite information relative to the French plans.

Announcement that the coal syndicate had decided to move its headquarters to Hamburg served to strengthen the morale of the inhabitants who were expecting that the French troops might arrive before the end of the day. Duisberg is said to be bustling with the activities of the French whose loaded transport trains are arriving steadily. The French have taken over eight public school buildings in that city from which they have taken out the furniture. This is being replaced with new military office fittings valued at thirty million marks.

French parades at Duisberg are reported as appearing in full field equipment.

Curtain To Lift Soon

PARIS, January 10.—(By the Associated Press)—The time for lifting the curtain in the latest act of the post-war drama—the French invasion of the Ruhr—was still a secret today. Every preparation for the final order to "go ahead" has been made with clock-like precision.

The consensus of opinion today that the advance would not begin until midnight tonight or early tomorrow. Various reasons were offered in support of this belief, chief among them being the fact that the foreign office had not received Premier Mussolini's reply to M. Poincaré's proposal that Italy join France and Belgium in formally notifying Germany of their intention to impose penalties. Notices that the troops would leave their concentration

Market News

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Short covering operations imparted a firm tone to most standard shares at the opening of today's stock market but sporadic short selling and profit taking in other quarters gave the general list an irregular appearance. Kresge was pushed up two points and moderate fluctuations were noted in May Department Stores, Union Pacific, the Pan American shares and U. S. Steel. Gulf States Steel dropped a point and was followed into lower ground by Eastman Kodak, U. S. Rubber, Crutcher and Huff Motors. Announcement of the proposed withdrawal of the American troops from the Rhine was followed by a heavy professional selling movement, short investors offering stocks freely on the theory that the technical condition of the market warranted a further reaction. Such leaders as Baldwin and Studebaker dropped two points from their earlier high levels, while General Asphalt, common and preferred, Chrysler Motors, Hupp Motors, Stewart-Warner, Tobacco Products "A", U. S. Alcohol, Coca Cola, General Electric, American Locomotive, Brooklyn Rapid Transit and Public Service of N. J. yielded one to two points.

Trading became more quiet at the lower levels.

California Petroleum was the only active stock to offer resistance to pressure, rising up to 7 1/2, a new high on the movement.

Cash money opened at 4 1/2 per cent but eased off to 4 1/4 after 11 o'clock.

The strong resistance offered by special stocks to the heavy bear selling on news of the proposed withdrawal of American troops from the Rhine eventually turned the course of prices upward in today's stock market.

Heavy buying of domestic oils, low money rates and higher foreign exchange all had a cheerful effect on sentiment. The European situation continued to exert a restraining effect on business, the day's sales amounting to 740,000 shares.

The closing was firm.

Chicago Grain And Provision

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Wheat prices had downward drift today in the early dealings, absence of any special demand being apparently responsible. Lower quotations at Liverpool counted somewhat as a depressing factor. There was no noticeable effect either way on the market after announcement that orders had been issued for the withdrawal of American troops in Germany. The opening which ranged from 1/4 lower to 1/2 advance, with May 1.18 to 1.18 1/2 and July 1.11 1/2 to 1.11 1/2 was followed by a setback all around to below yesterday's finish.

Corn and oats were relatively firm as a result of expected falling off in receipts of corn here. After opening unchanged to 1/4@1/2 lower, May 71 to 71 1/4, the corn market showed a slight upturn.

Prices closed firm 1/4 to 1 1/2 net higher with May 1.19 1/2 to 1.19 1/2 and July 1.12 to 1.12 1/2.

Oats started unchanged to a shade off, May 44 1/2 to 44 1/2, and held near to the initial figures. Provisions were easier in line with hog values.

Prices closed 1/4 to 1 1/2 net higher May 72 1/2 to 72 1/2.

Testimony Definitely Fixes Klan's Position In Investigation, Says Attorney General Cocco

BASTROP, La., January 10.—(By the Associated Press)—Backed by testimony which Attorney General Cocco said "definitely fixes the Klan's position in the present investigation of the outrages in Morehouse Parish," the state was ready today to adduce further evidence to support charges by officials implicating the Ku Klux Klan in the torture and slaying of Watt Daniel and Thomas F. Richards last August. Testimony of two witnesses yesterday was only a small part of the evidence the state has to offer against the Klan, said Mr. Cocco. Asserting that there is a "dual nature" to the invisible empire, Mr. Cocco said that "the Klan is on trial and the Klan will have to answer." Addie May Hamilton, who was deported from her Met Rouge home, was expected to take the principal role in today's open hearing. She is alleged to have been ordered deported from Louisiana with orders that she could return only by permission of officers of the Morehouse Chapter of the Ku Klux Klan.

HUGHES TOLD FRENCH AMBASSADOR OF AMERICAN PLAN FOR INQUIRY INTO REPARATIONS SETTLEMENT

WASHINGTON, January 10.—(By the Associated Press)—Any doubt as to the directness of the manner in which Secretary Hughes' proposal for a reparations inquiry by financial authorities was brought to the attention of the French government, had been removed today by a formal state department announcement. Issued after press reports from Paris yesterday stating that the French foreign office had denied receipt of the American plan, the announcement said Secretary Hughes had taken the matter up "directly with Ambassador Jusserand" some time previous to the secretary's New Haven address, in which suggestions were outlined. The French ambassador, it was said, was understood to have "transmitted it to his government" before later "proceeding to the secretary the observation of M. Poincare in reply." The views of the two governments, it was added, were "exchanged in this way."

One Feature Worth Entire Cost of Paper

That seems a strong statement to make, but we confidently believe that the great majority of the subscribers to the Portsmouth Morning Sun will agree that the DR. COPELAND ARTICLES are worth even more than the cost of the Sun per week. Dr. Copeland is one of the leading medical authorities of the country. He writes, every day for the Morning Sun, dealing with some topic of vital interest to the health of everyone. His articles afford a liberal education in health and hygiene. Try the Sun and see if this is not true.

This is but one of the many features in the Morning Sun. For instance some of the best cartoons are to be found every morning in the Sun. Probably the "best line of slang" in the country is used in "Our Boarding House." The Sun is growing. Why not help it along?

To Darken Hair Apply Sage Tea

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.—Advertisement.

BAESMAN'S SELECTS STRUT THEIR COMEDY; BEAT COLLEGIANS, 41 TO 13

Visitors Are Outclassed

Playing a much better game than in the previous contests so far this season the Baesman Selects won easily from the Morris-Harvey college five in the P. H. S. gym last night by a score of 41 to 13. They displayed better team work than usual, although Captain Baesman missed many shots at the hoop, due to his injured finger. The Morris-Harvey boys were forced to shoot long shots due to the five man defense put up by the locals, which the visitors could not penetrate.

In the last half of the game the visitors were played off their feet by the locals who tried to run their team work. In the first half when they gave their attention to scoring enough points to give them a comfortable lead. The Selects outscored some mighty clever team work and passing in the last half and it kept the college boys busy making an effort to keep the locals from tossing the sphere through the net. The visitors did not have a player who could match up with Baesman and the fact that he got the jump off every time was a big item in favor of the locals.

The guarding of Kent and Brown for the Selects was all that could be expected and then some. Brown is a new player with the regulars and has won a place on the first team through his fine work in the last two contests. Kent gave way to Fortner in the last half. Fortner also playing a nice game at guard while he was in the line. Kent also made two long shots good for four points.

The first half ended 17 to 10, the visitors playing their hardest in this half of the contest with the result that they did not have much fight left in them in the second half. At times when the visitors got the ball they showed flashes of team work but they were unable to make their shots accurate and missed a number of long chances.

When it came to scoring Guy Edwards led the way with 7 field baskets while Doll made 6 and Baesman 5.

Marting of Ashland was the referee and he kept the players moving every second. He was right on every play the result being a fast clean game that pleased the good sized crowd of fans. The lineup and summary:

Selects 41 Morris-Harvey 13
Edwards R. F. Hager
Doll L. F. Delaney
Baesman C. Lemon
Brown L. G. Rozzoline
Fortner R. G. Westphal

Subs: Morris-Harvey—Lance for Lemon; Lemon of Hager; Hager for Lance. Selects—Fortner for Kent; Field Goals—Edwards 7, Doll 6, Baesman 5; Kent 2; Lance 2; Lemon 2; Rozzoline 2.

Foul Goals—Kent 1; Rozzoline 1. Referee—Marting, Ashland.

Courage Biggest Asset In Sport

By Henry L. Farrell (United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Some years back Johnny McTaggart started out to be the best jockey on the track. He was one of the leading riders of the country and his services were in great demand.

One day in 1918 he went down in a spill and was badly injured. When he got back in the saddle again he found his nerve had departed. He had acquired a family and he didn't like the risks.

Successful riders as successes in all sport, have to have the heart to take chances and McTaggart slipped from the successful class.

He was still game in the belief that it would come back to him and he was courageous enough to fight the worst of all battles—with himself.

Leaving the big tracks, he went around to the smaller ones and fought and fought until the old daring came back.

He returned to the big time late in the last season and rode with his former class. Trainers and owners whispered among themselves: "Johnny's got his nerve back."

His comeback was rewarded with a contract to ride next season for the stable of Mrs. Payne Whitney.

Two years ago the New York Yankees took south with them for spring training a young infielder, Chick Fewster, one of the most promising players that had come up from the minors in years.

The Yanks and the Brooklyn Robins had arranged an exhibition tour on the way north and in one of the games, Fewster was hit on the head by one of the Jeff Pfeiffer's fast balls, one of the speediest deliveries in the game.

Fewster lingered between life and death for weeks. Operations were necessary and his career in baseball was despaired of, because old timers said: "There's always gun-shy after that."

Recovering, Fewster came back to the Yanks and instead of showing timidity at the bat he seemed over-daring and the pitchers were almost afraid of him. His heart surely was there and his courage never had been weakened, but the injury left him physically weak and he was unable to play in hot weather, dizzy spells seizing him when the sun boiled down.

on his head.

Fewster is still in the business, still fighting to come clear back. He is expected to be one of the regulars of the Boston Red Sox next season and if his heart has anything to do with it, he will.

Jack Kid Wolfe, of Cleveland, used to be rated several years ago as one of the greatest bantamweights in the ring. He was a near champion and was going good with featherweights. The Kid went out of his class and hit a stout car and was nearly ruined. His head was all cut up and he was generally reduced almost to junk.

He recovered but his eyes were bad and his shoulders were bound. Friends patted him on the back and told him it was too bad. He had a family and he hadn't saved much money.

Everyone believed he was all in, but the Kid himself. Managers all gave him the laugh when he wanted to work for them but finally Tommy McGinty took him and the Kid is back.

He may never be a champion now, but he's got the heart of a champion and he's a first rate/making money—one of the main ideas.

During the past summer he fought Frankie Jerome in New York. Jerome knocked him down seven times in the first round and five times more in the second, but the Kid kept bobbing up and then he started.

The judges gave the decision to Jerome, but it was the best draw anyone ever saw.

SCIOTOVILLE VS. SOUTH WEBSTER

Basketball fans of this section are promised a real game tomorrow, Thursday night, when the Sciotoville Selects meet the South Webster Independents on the Sciotoville high school floor at eight o'clock.

Manager Rev. P. A. Cross of the Sciotoville Selects says his team is more than ready for this contest and promises the South Webster quintet a hard battle.

Both teams have won over the St.

Joseph Selects of Ironton this season Webster winning from the Ironton five at Ironton while Sciotoville took them over the road at Sciotoville recently by a runaway score.

The Sciotoville Selects is a team composed of former high school stars at Sciotoville and they have perfected teamwork that is hard to beat. The South Webster quintet is also composed of former high school players.

New Boston And Wheelersburg To Clash

The New Boston high school gym will be the scene of another double bill Friday night when the Wheelersburg high school boys play the New Boston high school boys.

The big game between the boys will be hard fought for they are evenly matched. The New Boston girls have the edge on the W. H. S. girls and are counting on annexing another victory.

On Saturday night the New Boston girls play the Ironton girls in the New Boston gym.

Ace Club Knows Their Eggs; Beat The St. Joseph Selects

That Portsmouth boasts of another basketball five that is able to hold its own with the best in other cities of this section was demonstrated last night when the Ace Club five of Portsmouth visited Ironton and won over the famous St. Joseph Selects, 33 to 22.

The St. Joseph Selects started the season like a house afire with two high school stars in the game but when the high schools of this section objected to the two lads playing on the independent five they were taken off by Coach Davies and since then the Selects have been losing nearly every game. Blikle and Gallagher are the stars the St. Joseph quintet would like to have back into the game to bring them victories.

The Ace Club showed real teamwork and considerable accuracy on basket shooting considering they were on a strange floor. Lavender at center for the Portsmouth five got the jump on his taller opponent nearly every time. Hurth at forward for the locals made six field baskets with the other forwards Schuler and Krick, also showing up well. Oakes, Labeda and Snyder performed at guard in a most satisfactory manner, their clever work preventing the Selects from making a number of baskets.

Ironton—22 Portsmouth—33
Wagner R. F. Hager
Barron L. F. Delaney
Smiley L. G. Rozzoline
Dufford R. G. Westphal
Labeda L. G. Rozzoline
Snyder R. G. Westphal

Subs—Schuler for Krick, Oakes for Labeda, McBride for Dressel, Kreil for Wagner.

Referee—Newton.

Bullseyes Of Baseball

BY BILLY EVANS
NO. 10—LONGEST SINGLE I EVER SAW

KEEP your head up has long been a pet slogan in baseball. In most cases, it is a mighty fine hunch to play. You seldom go wrong working along that theory.

However I well recall a game in which keeping the head up proved very costly. In making that statement, I am taking the "heads up" slogan literally.

A great many fast runners, once they get into their stride, run with the head tilted slightly upward. Harry Niles, one of the fastest men I have ever seen in the majors, was that type of runner.

Niles, because of his "heads up" style of running produced one of the most unusual situations I have ever seen on the ball field.

He made a home run that in reality proved to be nothing more than one of the longest singles ever recorded in the history of the game.

Niles was with the Boston club and the game was played in Washington. On the Boston club, at the time, was a recruit first sacker by the name of Danzig, who also played a part in the episode.

With Boston two runs behind, late in the game, Danzig reached first base with Niles. Niles hit a hard liner to right field. Danzig, on first, bolted there was a chance that the ball would be caught. He played it safe by going half way between first and second.

Niles, who hit the ball, early made up his mind that the ball was not going to be caught. When he rounded first base he was going to full speed, carrying his head high in the air. He passed Danzig, like an express slips by a freight on a slide-track.

The ball was played to the plate, and Niles, with a nice slide beat the relay by a comfortable margin. It was not until he reached the bench that he was aware that he had passed Danzig between first and second, and, of course, was automatically out the moment he went by a preceding runner.

Danzig, in the meantime, up in the air, because of the action of Niles in passing him, went on to second and stayed there until the confusion cleared.

Unquestionably the near home run of Niles was the longest single I have ever seen in baseball.

TOMORROW—The timeliest home run I ever saw.

RUTH WILL NEVER AGAIN PACK HIS OLD TIME WALLOP, SAY PITCHERS

By NEA Service

NEW YORK, January 10.—Will Babe Ruth do a comeback in 1923, thrill the fans with his terrific wallop and win back his fastwaning prestige?

If you would believe a half dozen of the star pitchers who dropped around at the recent meeting of the major leagues, Ruth has seen his best days as a slugger.

"Never again will Ruth be as troublesome as in 1921, when he made those 59 home runs," remarked one prominent big league twirler.

"In those days, Ruth was feared by every pitcher in the American League, while those in the National were thankful he wasn't in that organization. Ruth was a big threat in those days, but that big bat of his no longer carries the base-hit dynamite with which it was once loaded.

"Ruth has lost confidence in his ability to hit, and without it he is only an ordinary batsman."

There you have the opinion of one of the best pitchers in the American League.

"Ruth lacked co-ordination in his hitting last summer," remarked another pitcher. He was out of tune all summer. The eye, the brain and the arms were not acting in unison.

BABE RUTH

Co-ordination is more or less a gift, and they say once lost, it is about the hardest thing in the world to regain. Truly, Babe Ruth has strenuous days ahead.

McGraw SEEKS THREE NEW STARS

By NEA Service

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Manager McGraw of the New York Giants is never content to stand pat, no matter how strong his team may appear on paper.

It is said that McGraw, while satisfied with his infield, feels that the outfield pitching staff and catching department could stand some strengthening.

Having that in mind, it is said McGraw has designs on three National League stars.

Eddie Roush of Cincinnati would fit in nicely in the Giants' outfield, according to McGraw. Roush would probably welcome a change to New York.

Always strong for Pitcher Lee Meadows of the Phillies, McGraw is said to be again angling for the belted star twirler.

Now that Pittsburgh has placed Catcher Schmidt on the market, McGraw would not be averse to purchasing him. However, Barney Dreyfus may pass up any proposition that will strengthen the Giants.

Shevlin To Meet Christiano

The Chillicothe Gazette says: "There is considerable speculation over the relative merits of Jimmy Shevlin, Cleveland batter, and Bud Christiano, Chicagoan, who are to stage the main fray here on Thursday evening, January 15—Local fans are familiar with the work of Christiano, for he has appeared several times recently in Columbus, and has made a very favorable impression. Most of the boys are putting him forward as the favorite, but those who follow the records closely say the dope does not warrant this.

Shevlin is a mighty good boy, the dope sheets show. He has met such men as Billy McCann and Sid Barabarian, getting the decision over the latter in one bout and a draw in the other. Young Webb also felt before him by the decision route, as did Pat Kansas and Frankie Bowinkle, Cincinnati scrappers.

While many fans believe that Billy Kim will prove a Tartar, to Frankie Wells in the semi-final, the knowing few wink their left eyes and point out that Billy is another Pete Sullivan. All wallop and no science, and Frankie has plenty of that. It will be a meeting of skill and brawn.

Ironton And P. H. S. Girls Clash Friday

An Ironton high school basketball five is coming here Friday night to do battle with a P. H. S. five, and the more announcement of such a contest means a big crowd will be on hand to watch the teams perform.

The game will be between the girls' five of the two schools. The P. H. S. girls have won over the championship Knights of Ashland 11 and believe they can easily win from the Red and Blue color bearers here Friday evening.

Captain Armstrong of the local quintet and players have been practicing daily and are more than ready for the hard battle of Friday night. All the regulars will be in the game and the Ironton ladies are sure to find real opposition in the P. H. S. five.

The game will start at eight o'clock and will be the second home contest of the season for the P. H. S. girls.

HOW TO PLAY BASKETBALL

Q. Why are glass backboards used on some courts?
A. So the spectators in the rear of the backboards will not have their view of the game cut off, also some wooden backboards are livelier than others.

Q. May a player grab the ball from the hands of an opponent?
A. Yes.

Q. What is the size of the official goal?
A. Eighteen inches in diameter, inside measurement, for both the amateur and professional games.

Q. When two players are jumping for ball being tossed up by the referee in the center, what positions are the other players obliged to assume?
A. Amateur rules allow them to take any position as long as they do not interfere with the jumpers. Professional rules restrict the players to keep 15 feet from jumpers until the ball is tossed up by referee.

Q. If a player attempts to pass the ball jumps and then falls to pass the ball, but still holds it without moving from the spot he has jumped to, is it a foul?
A. You may take one step with one foot in any direction and lift the other foot, but as soon as you place the other foot on the floor and you still hold the ball, it is a foul.

Q. How To Play Basketball
Offense. Against teams of nearly equal ability, plays from center will not work consistently. You must concede that the opponents are likely to be as alert and follow the ball as closely as your own team, and before the ball can be relayed to a position to score, something is very apt to happen, which might spoil the play. However, were scoring from a set play at center a rarity, the effort would still be worth while. At a given signal, all five men are prepared to do a prearranged thing, and this team spirit and mutual help is well worth cultivating in basketball. All other things being equal, the team that is best prepared will win. All plays should be simple and as stated before, limited in number. It is well worth remembering that the more hands the ball passes through, the greater the chance for a misplay.

Still Unconscious
COLUMBUS, Jan. 10.—Patsy White, 22, Columbus middleweight boxer, had not regained consciousness at a hospital today from the effects of injuries received here last night in a bout with Grant Clark. After having been struck by Clark, White fell, his head striking the floor. Physicians believe he has concussion of the brain.

New York Sure To See Ty Cobb At Top Of Game

By NEA Service

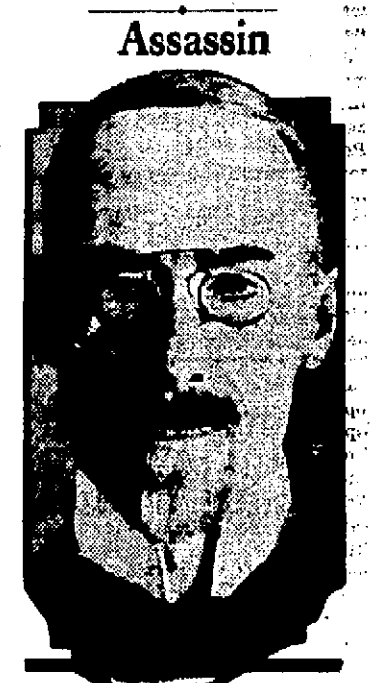

DETROIT, January 10.—Ty Cobb is certain to be a bigger drawing card than ever before in New York this year.

Cobb, who always goes big in the metropolians, is certain to be more in the spotlight than ever because of that disputed New York hit.

The hit was allowed by President Johnson, putting Cobb in the 400 class. The New York writers made a big fuss over the matter, claiming Cobb was not entitled to it, at the same time penning Cobb and the American League president.

It's a cliché that the attitude of the New York scribes made no hit with Cobb. When the Tigers arrive in New York this summer, the memory of that disputed bingle will be fresh in Cobb's mind.

Little things like that arouse the fighting spirit of Cobb, and it is a certainty that his best work of 1923 will be in New York. If effort will bring results, Cobb will try every way possible to show up his detractors.

This is the first photograph to be received in this country of Elzbieta Niewiadomska, the Polish painter who assassinated President Narutowicz at an art exhibition in Warsaw. Niewiadomska has been sentenced to death.

MARRIAGE A FAILURE!

MARRIAGE is a failure. That's final. Decision by Judge Ben B. Lindsey, who presides over the children's court in Denver. Children may be seen but not heard. There is no talking back in Judge Lindsey's court. That's how he got the habit of saying so much and believing it. It accounts for his positiveness on the failure of marriage. Not only is it a failure, but "as a social institution it has failed miserably." There's nothing like disposing of a case when you tackle one.

Still, there may be some dissent from the opinion of this oracle, notwithstanding the judge vared a vrad of statistics gathered in Denver and declared they proved everything he said. In the year ended December 15th, marriage licenses were granted in Denver to the number of 3,000; in the same period 1,300 divorce petitions were filed. Furthermore there were 1,500 non-support and separation cases and a lot of separations that did not get any record. "You can see that means one separation for every marriage." To such a simple plane as the science of arithmetic been reduced for the benefit of infantile minds that are the customary concern of Lindsey.

The world has been hearing stuff of this sort for quite a long time. There is no answering it. Society is being wrecked and doing nothing simply because nothing can be done. "When an institution that is absolutely right creates a thing that is absolutely wrong you can't escape the reaction," Judge Lindsey makes things beautifully plain; does he not? That for marriage! "Divorce and separation are absolutely necessary until the conditions that cause them are corrected." And that's as easy as settling a scrap between boys over the ownership of a dog. "We simply have to psycho-analyze our social life and our conventions." There! Go to it.

The housing shortage is more acute than ever. Isn't it odd, though, to find so many people living that way? Whether in a great city or in sparsely settled places one cannot escape that happily married. The marriage license clerks are rarely idle. And some ministers perform so many marriages it is almost a scandal. Judge Lindsey might have saved his breath.

HOME RULE FOR SCOTLAND

THE strength of the agitation for Irish home rule and its far-flung, long-continued and skillfully engineered propaganda have obscured to the outside world the fact that in Scotland also there has been for years a fairly strong movement in favor of self-government. The legislative union effected between England and Scotland in 1707 was of the greatest economic advantage to the latter country, which shared to the full the prosperity of her former rival, and politically became, in the truest sense, part and parcel of the center of that great modern empire on which the sun never sets.

Always, however, there have been idealists who, mourning the loss of independence and cherishing alike the memory of the victory of Bannockburn and the defeat of Flodden field, wished to have the old Scottish parliament restored, with England and Scotland two separate kingdoms again, but still, seignior over by the same sovereign. Now that the Irish Free State has been established, they think the time is opportune for pressing their claims for the recognition of their country as a separate national entity. The result is the formation of the Scottish Home Rule association, whose professed object is to secure self-government for Scotland.

There is a belief among many leading English statesmen that the imperial parliament is no longer able to cope with all the pressing problems presented to it for consideration and the resultant wish to see an ample devolution of powers to local legislative bodies. As the agitation for Scottish home rule involves no question of disloyalty to the crown or to the English connection; it is a fair surmise that it will make rapid headway and may at no distant date succeed in gaining its objective.

Germany is reported to be calm—calm but not collected.

The jaws of ruin that Germany is said to be in seem to have rubber teeth.

Flivvers are so cheap now that only the rich can afford to be seen in them.

The man with an idea faces the task of getting others to take it as seriously as he does.

Capper's Weekly suggests opposing tickets of Henry Ford and John Rockefeller, which isn't altogether bad.

Once again we rise to remark that citizens of these parts make themselves perfectly ridiculous in running south for this season. Why, this is the finest winter climate on earth. Clear skies and just enough nip in the gentle breezes to put verve into the body and spirit.

A Greek cabinet is soon a what-not.

It is now reported there are 8,000,000 Russians in need of immediate relief. Is this thing of relieving Russia to be a permanent job?

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTIRE

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Fifth Avenue's signless austerity strikes a glacial note for the stranger. The glittering shops are suffocatingly awesome. It is the last place in the world that one would think of asking for credit.

The truth is that nowhere is credit so easily acquired. Oddly enough the avenue shop-keeper assumes every customer to be honest until proven otherwise. Charge accounts are welcomed and few questions are asked. Old Paper Collar Joe once said in a moment of easy confidence: "Give me a fur coat, high hat and gold headed cane and I'll live in plenty for years and years on Fifth Avenue credit."

Recently a member of my house hold visited one of the most select jewelry shops. She was unknown to them yet with only her name and address as guarantee of good faith the manager insisted that she take valuables to the amount of several thousands of dollars home for the night for inspection and selection.

Spurious noblemen; with nothing save a monocle and crested calling card have run up staggering bills along the avenue time after time but the confidence of the avenue remains unshaken.

The other day I dropped into a haberdasher's shop near old Sherry's. After purchasing several articles the clerk inquired for my name and said he would charge them. I replied I had no account there.

"It doesn't matter, we'll open one," he said. I questioned him and learned the psychology of that particular shop. Charge accounts are conducive to larger sales. If the address is a respectable one, they take a chance and the increased volume of business from vicarious charge accounts is more than offset by the small percentage of losses.

Even the soda water establishments that charge 75 cents for a glass of soda are now soliciting charge accounts. Florists are particularly insistent in discharging cash sales.

They sing of Manhattan as "a hard boiled town—the Isle of Ice. And yet the other day in the neighborhood of Columbus Circle a member of the scarlet sisterhood sank to the curb amid the jostling night throng. The crowd surged about. A clanging ambulance came after a time and there was a race with Death in the hospital. Her life was burned from an acid potion, self administered. In one hand was a hundred dollar bill and in the other a jeweled bracelet. It was the hurrying tribute from New York's stony hearted bystanders to a soul-sick stranger.

Hobble-de-Hoy Mag, a crippled old apple woman who has for years sold apples from a basket near Brooklyn Bridge, was married the other day to Sam, the venerable pretzel seller of Union Square. Each is past 60 years of age. The romance began one biting day last winter when through lack of funds they sat up together all night on a bench in one of the public parks.

Here is a ditty the midnight roysters are singing in the early morning hours:
We're coming, we're coming, our brave little band,
On the right side of temperance we now take our stand;
We don't use tobacco, for this we do think
That them as does use it most usually does drink.

The Only Way Out

The cowpuncher had been absent from his haunts for a month or two on a honeymoon trip, and returning was warmly greeted by a friend. "But where's your wife?" asked the latter. "Why, I had hard luck with that woman," answered the cowpuncher regretfully. "We was ridin' along some crossroads one day and she fell off her horse and broke her leg." "And what did you do?" inquired the friend. "What could I do?" demanded the puncher. "Hell, man; I shot her, of course."

The Little Roads

(Arkansas Gazette)

O little roads so lovely and entrancing,
Inset with sunshine and with silver rain,
Across the years the urge of you is calling—
O little roads, so beautiful and vain.

Who may retrace the paths his feet have wandered;
Who may bring back the vanished golden age?
The past is past; the shining coin is squandered;
The hand of time has turned the faded page.

Wide ways there are that lead to light and learning,
Broad beaten paths to triumph and to truth;
But nevertheless from out the unreturning
Come back the little roads—the roads of youth.

He and his sweetheart had quarreled violently. With what dignity he could master he walked to the hallway, put on his hat and coat, and started out the door. With vehemence, she yelled:
"If I never see you again, it will be too soon."
